

New Sanquin blood bank Northwest Region of Amsterdam

Construction of the new Sanquin blood bank next to the existing buildings, connected by a corridor. It was necessary that the works were quiet and vibration-free.

The project

The building is a combination of laboratories, offices and public functions. The atrium walkways create visible links between the different functions of the building.

Main Contractor

This project was delivered by MedicomZes (a trading name of Visser & Smit Bouw bv).
